DR LIGHTHILL—Dear Sir Allow me to express my gratitude to you in this public acknowledgement for the great benefit I received while under your care For nearly three years I was badly affected with Chronic Catarrh resisted many physicians and spent hundreds in vain for relief Some would tell me that catarrh was incurable and this would add discouragement to the disappointment which unsuccessful treatment has caused me Four weeks ago I placed myself under your care and am now happy to state that I am entirely cured of this bad complaint

Yours with many thanks

The Cincinnati Inquirer's St. Louis correspondent says that Gen. Halleck's plan of operations is not to proceed down the Mississippi, but up the Tennessee river, where his forces (75,000 strong) will leave the river and march in the rear of Columbus, Hickman and other points, towards Memphis. This manœuvre will compel the rebels at Columbus and other points to fall back on Memphis, thus leaving the river clear for the gunboats and transportation vessels to pass up and down unmolested. No defences have been thrown up on the Tennessee river by the rebels, and the continual running up and down of gunboats has kept the shores entirely clear of masked batteries and fortifications.—The column of Maj General Halleck will move forward in conjunction with Gen. Buell's division of 60,000 men from Louisville, which proceeds through Kentucky via Bowling Green to Nashville. If this is really the plan of the campaign, the correspondent has done the rebels good service by making it known.

The New York World says there is evidently pervading all branches of the government a far more hopeful feeling concerning a successful result of the present conflict than heretofore, and this is exhibited in conversation and otherwise. While it is believed that the British press will be as earnest as our own in discussing the circumstances attending the arrest of Slidell and Mason, no fears are felt that the quarrel is will be productive of serious embarrassment to the two countries.

THE REVOLUTIONISTS AT WORK IN EUROPE. Thoroughly trustworthy private letters from Europe contain the highly important intelligence that the revolutionists of the Continent have made the most ample preparations to seize any opportunity which a meddlesome intervention in the affairs of this country may give them. In Italy, Austria, Poland and even France, others are held ready to be sprung at a moment's notice. Should England trouble us, she will be duly to cause a general conflagration.

Letter from the Maine Twelfth.

Camp Chase, Lowell, Mass, Dec. 7

Editor of Whig & Courier:

Perhaps you are busy from the 12th may not come amiss. We arrived here last Tuesday, at noon, and found a good warm dinner in waiting for us in the immense dining hall on the camp ground, to which we did ample justice. This dining hall presented a lively appearance during the two or three days that our regiment received its rations there. The whole regiment could be seated in it at once.

We have now commenced drilling in earnest, and are making rapid progress. The officers of the Regiment, both regimental and company, are very popular. Among the most popular of the latter, are the officers from Bangor—Captain Appleton and Lieutenant Webster of Co. H, and Lieutenants Thompson and Coombs of Co. I.

Yesterday forenoon our regiment, together with a portion of a Massachusetts regiment encamped at this place, was reviewed by General Butler, and in the afternoon he inspected our arms in person. The boys had received notice of his coming, and their arms were consequently in good condition. The General is full as squint eyed as his pictures represent him, but for all that he can detect any dirt or rust on a musket, as soon as any man.

The Regiment encamped with us, which will probably be the Massachusetts 29th when organized, is for Butler's Brigade, and will be a crack regiment. There is a company of sharpshooters and a company of mounted riflemen also encamped on the grounds. The latter is to be Gen. Butler's Body Guard, and are to be armed with an improved revolving rifle.

Yesterday, religious services were conducted by our Chaplain, the Rev. Mr. Colby, in the dining hall, and both regiments were in attendance.

The health of the Regiment is good, there being but few cases of sickness, and they are of a mild character. All seem to be well contented, and although there has been some inconvenience in delivering the rations, consequent upon being so unsettled, yet there has been but little complaining. Our men did not enlist with the expectation of having a holiday.

The Colonel received a letter from Governor Washburn, last Wednesday, which was read to the regiment at dress parade, expressing regret that he was unable to visit the regiment before its departure, and wishing us success. After the parade was dismissed, three hearty cheers and a "tiger" were given for Governor Washburn, by the several Companies.

We have received no notice yet when we are to leave, but all are anxiously waiting for the time to come. Co. B.

☞ The officers of the 15th regiment, so far as appointed, are as follows—

Jon McCliskey, Houlton, Colonel
Jhon W. Jones, Ellsworth, Lt. Colonel
Benjamin Hawes, Ashland, Major.
Johnn Bonsell, Houlton, Surgeon
Samuel B. Hunter, East Machias, Assistant Surgeon
Worthington S. Locke, Presque Isle, Quartermaster
James H. Flint, Eastport, Quartermaster Sergeant

THE CONTRABANDS IN WASHINGTON JAIL—Senator Wilson, in the course of his remarks on Thursday, referred to a report made to Provost Marshal Allen Porter, by Detective Allen, in the employ of the Government, on the condition of "contrabands" in Washington jail. It is dated November 18th, and says.

"I find incarcerated in the city jail in this city, in the midst of filth, vermin and contagious diseases, on a cold stone floor, many without shoes, nearly all without sufficient clothing, bedding, or fire, and all in the last starving condition, 60 colored persons, male and female, confined because—in the language of their commitments—they were suspected of being runaways, and no proofs had been filed to show that they were not runaways. There are a number of cases of freeborn men, such as that of John Alsbieck alias Wellfolk, committed May 11th, 1861, who states that he was freeman of about 24 years of age, born in Albemarle County, Va; has a wife and child in Charlottesville, free; left home because they were making up all free colored persons, and compelling them to go in the front of battle and chained direct to Washington; was taken up on the second day after his arrival, while crossing the aqueduct, the constable saying that he would have to keep him a year and then see him to pay his fares; a month ago he understood the fees amounted to $60; he has had no change of clothing since he came here; he hasn't had enough to eat. Richard Oliver, committed Aug 5, born free in Baltimore; came to Washington with the 21st Pennsylvania Regiment, was arrested on the way with them to Georgetown; John Mathews, committed July 20; born in the District, 24 years old, slave of Mrs Where Hired out to Company C, 23d Ohio, as cook; said much down till they went home. On the day he was to go past he was arrested. No objection to returning to Mrs. White. Babe Bowie, committed Sept 21 by John H Newman; born in St. Paul, Minnesota, aged about 21; left last Summer with 1st Minnesota, as cook for the Captain and first Lieutenant of Company A; taken up in Georgetown as a runaway when going to the regiment. He was not allowed to send twelve for proofs of freedom. The constable said a pass would make no difference, as runaways frequently get taken from regiments.

The above are only a few of the "secrets of the prison house" disclosed by the report. They are enough, however, to show the horrible injustice and cruelty which has been practiced in the very capital of our Republic under the slave system. These men, it will be seen, were imprisoned and kept imprisoned under authority of the District—not because they had been guilty of any crime—not because they were runaway slaves even, but because there was a possibility that they might be such. And they were kept rotting in jail because they couldn't prove the contrary.

The extensive preparations on the Mississippi have filled the rebels below Cairo with terror. A dispatch to Memphis to the Louisville Petrioit representes that place in great excitement relative to an expected invasion of Federal troops by land and water. The same disquietude is felt in Arkansas. The Little Rock Democrat says:

"The evening news received from the Northwest, yesterday, had a profound effect upon many members of the Legislature whose homes lay in that direction. Many of them talked of a precipitate retreat from home, and we should not be surprised if, by tonight, some battle scars

The steamer Terror will take the baggage and freight from this city to the Stanford, this morning—leaving here at 10½ o'clock.

THE ARMY CHECKER BOARD, for sale by H. Bartlett, is just the thing for a soldier to carry to the war, for amusement in his leisure hours. It is printed on fine paper, and may be laid out on a table or board for use, and folded up in the knapsack when travelling. Sets of checker men in pasteboard, are included, with chess men upon card board.

SUCCESSFUL FARMING. We learn that Mr. M. S. Rice, of Stetson, on the old Amasa Stetson farm, so called, has raised on the same and made from his dairy, during the past season, 10,000 lbs of butter, 4100 bushels potatoes, 900 bushels corn, 800 bushels oats, 150 bushels wheat, 200 bushels barley, 200 tons hay, 9000 pounds pork. The amount of cash paid out for labor during the year was about $1500. Mr. Rice was recently a resident of this city, and went on to the Stetson farm two or three years ago.

APPOINTMENT. We learn that Mr. John H. Crowell of Winterport, who left the State with the Maine 4th as Quartermaster Sergeant, has received the appointment of Qartermaster of the 14th, Col. Nickerson's regiment, and is now at Augusta. It is gratifying to his friends to have him thus promoted, for he has been a faithful servant of the Government.

NEW MUSIC BOOK. We call attention to the advertisement of "The New Music Book" by Lowell and William Mason. The reputation of the Masons is sufficiently guarantee that the work is a good one, and we have no doubt it will receive general favor.

☞ The friends of Rev Dr. Sheldon are making an effort to settle him in Waterville as pastor. He resides in Bath, but has preached in Waterville one fourth of the time for the past year. Two thousand dollars have been subscribed to pay him for two years.

☞ The late Jacob Hayes of Charlestown, Massachusetts, by his will bequeathed $20,000 to the Bangor Theological Seminary, for the purpose of establishing a professorship to be known as the "Hayes Professorship."

☞ Timothy Dunning of Minot, was held to bail in the sum of $400 at Auburn, on Tuesday, for threatening to burn the buildings of his neighbor E. H. Ayer. There had been a quarrel existing between the parties for eight or nine years, and grew out of the zeal of Mr. Ayer in suppressing the liquor traffic.

☞ Capt. John S. Sampson of the 2d Maine, Company D, who was in the battle of Bull Run, has resigned his command, on account of ill health. He arrived at his home in Milo, on Monday last.

☞ A new Cornet Band of fourteen pieces, has been organized in Dover.

☞ A young man named Ayer aged sixteen years of age was drowned in the Androscoggin river at Topsham, while skating, on Wednesday afternoon last. He belonged in Freeport.

☞ Brig May Queen, of Portland, Giles master, from Cienfuegos for Boston, with a cargo of molasses, sugar and honey, to B. Burgess & Son, went ashore in the South side of Nantucket, 2d inst, and soon became almost a total wreck. All hands were saved.

☞ Schr Adelaid, Capt. Morrell, from Eastport, Me, for Yarmouth, N. S., with a cargo of lumber, ran ashore at Lobster Bar, in Chegogin Cove, N. S., at 6 o'clock on the night of the 11th ult., and became a total wreck. She had previously lost her bowsprit in attempting to weather Cape Forolus. Crew saved.

We have the authority of a reliable gentleman who was in Freedom on a visit at the time of the reception of Enlist, for saying that the first accounts of the riotous, treasonable affair were very near the truth, although in the country, notwithstanding.—Rockland Dem.

☞ The family of Isaac and Mary Burns of Embden, have recently experienced the terrible and fatal effects of Diphtheria, having lost since the 18th of November, four children; on the 18th, Amelia, aged 17 years; 26th, Cornelius aged 11; 23d, Manville, aged 13; 24th, Andrew aged 15.

THE CAVALRY REGIMENT. It is stated by the Portland Advertiser that Captain McKim, Quartermaster of the New England Division, who is Augusta on Friday, for the purpose of arranging for the transportation of troops from this State, said that the cavalry regiment will, probably, in about two weeks go to Portland by rail, and be forwarded by water as soon as transports can be obtained here. Captain McKim is of the opinion that if the Cavalry regiment was not already mustered into service, its services would be dispensed with altogether.

The Lewiston Journal says that an order was actually received for its disbandment, provided the men had not been mustered into service—but they had been sworn in on the day previous.

Governor Washburn received a telegram from Washington, dated Thursday, stating that no more regiments would be needed from Maine. The only exceptions hereafter will be for the purpose of filling companies in regiments already mustered into service.—Advertiser.

☞ A letter received in Rockport 5th inst., from Block Island, states that on the 26th ult., at 4 o'clock, A. M., another thick, substantial Barrel, of Bangor, Maine, from Rockport for Baltimore, ashore on Block Island, and became a total wreck. The barrel was in perfect order, and contained a quantity of Pitcher's Castile Soap. Block Island Squatter will be promptly delivered by the

WILLIAM H. SWINGLER.

☞ Rev. Dr. Dutton, President of Yale College, where will be seen from the Dr. Eddy has returned, and is the position of his profession. They put the institution of Yale distinguished author, at the country, than he attended the efforts of Mr. Eddy for Civil very difficult and complex department of business, and we take great pleasure in recording the fact, that as a Patent Attorney, he stands pre-eminent. The essential qualities requisite are, first, integrity and honor, strong powers of analysis, and quick, intuitive perception, familiar acquaintance with Patent Law and Patents. All these qualities we know Mr. Eddy to possess in a remarkable degree. For more than twenty years he has devoted his entire time and energies to perfect himself in this department, and there is no man, equally competent to give advice in inventors, touching the validity of claims and the patentability of inventions. In prosecuting claims founded upon his so fully prepared specifications, he has been particularly successful, a large part of his practice being appeals in cases where patents have been refused two or three times in consequence of inexperienced and incompetent attorneys. We confidently recommend Mr. Eddy to all who are in want of any information on the subject, and can assure them that implicit reliance may be placed in any statements he may make.

SPINAL DISEASES.—Dr. Halsted's success in the treatment of these diseases, in which he has had unusually large experience, and of the many dangerous affections resulting out of them, are evidences of the superior efficacy of his method—as it also his success in the treatment of Paralysis, Diseases of the Joints, and loss of the use of Limbs. Many under his care he has been made to walk, whom it was supposed would be helpless for life. In these cases, pain may be felt in any organ where the nerve terminates, without producing any uneasiness in the back, where the organ has its origin. Pain in the breast, side, hips, knees, or even feet, may have its origin in the spine.

When a nerve in the spine of the neck is compressed, the disease will be felt in the hand; when between the shoulders, about the lungs and heart; further down, in the stomach and bowels; when opposite the hips or in the small of the back, in the kidneys or lower limbs. In certain weaknesses of the bowels, and other difficulties dependent on spinal derangement, medicine is taken with but partial benefit, unless local treatment of the spine is also resorted to. Such sufferers will find full mention of value in the treatise on Motorpathy, price 25 cts and any invalid may read it with benefit.

☞ Among the more important of late medical discoveries, no compound seems to be gaining a higher reputation, or is more popular by than Dr. E. G. Goodale's Pin Worm Syrup. It seems to have been the first and only remedy ever found effectual in expelling those troublesome worms from the human system. It acts as a cathartic, and where physic is required, especially for children is found to be most valuable; it must stand upon its merits, as we understand Agents everywhere are unauthorized to warrant it effectual, or money to be refunded.—Boston Traveller.

MORE CURES BY DR. LITTLEFIELD. We invite attention to the following certificates of recent cures of deafness, catarrh, crossness and tubes. The operations in these cases requiring them were very skillful.—

BANGOR, Dec [illegible]

With grateful feeling I hereby certify that Dr Lightfull has this day extracted a polypus from my nostrils and upper part of my throat, of the size of a goose egg, weighing four ounces and over. I was troubled with it for two years, coming through the right nostrils at times, and am sure the size it grew to would have suffocated me before another year. The operation so skillfully performed, was attended with but very little pain and without any injury to the delicate linings of the nostrils and upper part of the throat. DANIEL V. [illegible]
Orrington, Me.

BANGOR, Dec. 6th 1861.

CURE OF DEAFNESS. Dr Lightfull entirely cured me of deafness and noises in the head and ears of several years standing. Before I applied to Dr. Lightfull, I could not hear loud conversation when addressed to me, now my hearing is perfectly restored. JOSIAH R. MORRILL.
Monroe Centre, Me.

CURE OF CATARRH. I hereby certify that for ten years I was affected with catarrh in its worst form, and that Dr Lightfull entirely cured me of it in seven weeks treatment. I now weigh 20 pounds heavier than when I first placed myself under his care. JAMES H. T. STARRER.

The Times despatch says that Gen. Robert Wilson, President of the Missouri State Convention, arrived here last night He says the Federal troops still occupy Sedalia, Rolla and Tipton So far from Ben McCulloch surrounding Gen Sigel at Sedalia, the latter would be rejoined to get within reach of him

Gen Wilson says the loyal citizens of Missouri have perfect confidence in Gen Halleck and if his policy is carried out there can be no doubt of the safety of the State to the Union, and that all the recent reports copied from The Memphis Avalanche in relation to rebel triumphs in Missouri are utterly without foundation

SONGS IN MANY KEYS—By Oliver Wendell Holmes Boston Ticknor & Field For sale in Bangor by D Bugbee

In this beautifully printed volume of 300 pages we have a large collection of the poems of Dr Holmes, one of the most genial, humorous and witty writers of the day The principal poem in length is "Agnes"—a New England love tale of a lowly maiden and a foreign knight. This occupies about thirty pages of the book The remainder is filled with short songs and poems as varied in subject as the genius of the author

THE FIELD MANUAL OF EVOLUTIONS OF THE LINE arranged in a tabular form, for the use of officers of the U S Infantry being a Sequel to the Authorized U S Infantry Tactics Translated, with adaptation to the U S service from the latest French authorities, by Capt Henry Coppee, late instructor in the U S Military Academy at West Point Philadelphia J B Lippincott & Co

For sale in Bangor by Bugbee & Co

A timely little book, and one which will be found very valuable as a manual of instruction to our soldiers Every volunteer should study military tactics, as military education and personal good conduct and courage are the only requisites for promotion

We trust that the question of creating a new State out of Texas will attract the attention of Congress at an early day A free State upon the Gulf of Mexico can be secured without violating any person's right or the spirit and letter of the Constitution and of the treaty of annexation

A jury in Hamilton, C W, have decided that mourning cannot legally be considered part of funeral expenses The defendant was connected with the Great Western Railway Company, and promised to pay the funeral expenses of a victim of an accident on the road In the bill presented was an item for mourning furnished the family, which the jury disallowed

A Louisville letter in the Cincinnati Gazette says that a Tennessee regiment of 1700 men recently disbanded and went home in disgust because they were not furnished with arms, which Gov Harris finds exceedingly difficult to get, notwithstanding his urgent appeals The writer remarks

The truth is there are many people in Middle Tennessee who will not bring in their private arms at the crack of Master Harris' whip—They desire to keep them for the express purpose of shooting him on the wing when he begins a speech like that of Governor Jackson But if the Federal army marches to their relief, the fearful usurper will subject them to all the horrors of tyrannical inquisition

The rebels of South Kentucky, too, are making a man feel by their actions that the advance breezes of a coming storm have shaken the air as above them Some of the secession merchants of Glasgow have transferred their stocks to Franklin, and others are getting very uneasy "

The Indian Bureau has received information that Gen Hunter, by its direction was holding a council at Leavenworth with influential representatives of the Southern Indians, including those from the Creeks Cherokees and Choctaws, in relation to the disturbances occasioned by the present rebellion The instructions sent further by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs contemplate their return to their own people with strong assurances of the friendship of the United States Government

The following paragraph was unintentionally omitted in the transmission of the recent speech of Senator Trumbull—

"Without any special act of Congress, I presume that no one doubts that our military commanders in the prosecution of the war in insurrectionary districts, may for the time being seize and make use of the property of the rebels and their slaves, but on the restoration of peace the right of the owner would remain Hence, if we would have perfect uniformity of action among the commanders of our armies, and forfeit forever the property of rebels and their claim to the service of their fellowmen, it must be done by act of Congress."

The Pension office has withheld the payment of pensions to a number of persons on sufficient evidence of their disloyalty It appears that some have shown a willingness to take the prescribed oath of allegiance and loyalty, for the purpose of obtaining money from the Government, but who afterwards either join the rebels or otherwise give them aid and comfort As a large number of pensions are paid after the 1st of Oct, the returns thus far received, do not afford sufficient data from which to judge of the extent of the disloyalty

The widow of Colm Thomas A P Catesby Jones is among those who have removed to Jefferson, and thus loses the benefits of her pension

Capt Todd of the Lincoln Cavalry, who with a few of his company was taken prisoner in the neighborhood of Pounk Church about three weeks ago, while on a reconnoissance, has written a letter, which was received here yesterday stating that none of those who went with him at that time, were injured that they are all now imprisoned at Richmond

The roads between Washington and the camps on the Maryland side of the river Potomac are almost impassible for the army through wagons Nearly all the stores are now shipped by small steamers and transports

Thirty one contrabands have arrived here, many of them were women and children, and were brought over from Mathias Point by Col Graham during his recent reconnoissance The men among them were employed as laborers—These slaves had been deserted by their masters and were in a destitute condition when discovered by our troops

Nearly all of Gen Banks' divisions is now here or encamped in this vicinity Col Rogers Wisconsin regiment has been detailed as Provost Guard and Col Rogers has been made Provost Marshall

Gen Banks' headquarters are at the Mansion of Bradley T Johnson, now a rebel Colonel

On the march through this city, the troops were greeted heartily by the Unionists here the stars and stripes were thrown out, and even some avowed secessionists joined heartily in the greeting Some of the latter have extended the hospitality of their residences to the officers of the army

Gen Banks and staff visited Sandy Hook on a special train today Everything was quiet from Point of Rocks to Harpers Ferry and no bodies of the enemy were seen Col Geary's command were vigilent, and allowed the rebels no opportunity to depredate upon Unionists

WASHINGTON, 7

The general disposition among Congressmen is to pass a law, making more certain and stringent the forfeiture of rebel property, while that of Unionists will be more surely protected, in other words, making a wide discrimination between the two classes It is not at all probable that anything will be done to mitigate even for the heretofore declared object in vigorously prosecuting the war

NEW YORK, 8

Steamship Africa from Liverpool, Nov 24th, via Queenstown, afternoon of 24th, arrived at 8 o clock this morning

Steamship Anglo Saxon from Quebec, arrived at Londonderry on night of the 22d with the news of the loss of Steamship North Briton

Aaron Goodrich, Secretary of Legation at Brussels, left London on the night of the 26d, reaching Queenstown just in season to embark on the Africa He is bearer of special despatches to Washington

The affair of the Confederate steamer Nashville and the Harvey Birch continued to excite great attention.

The Nashville was still at Southampton, but nothing had been done towards repairing her or furnishing her with supplies

An important Ministerial conference had been held at the Admiralty, supposed to be in reference to the Nashville.

The Daily News says it would be monstrous if belligerents, while in a neutral port, were permitted to obtain the means of continuing war

The London Star points out that there is some distinction in law as well as in feeling between friendly powers and powers that are acknowledged only as belligerent

The London Herald says that if the Nashville is permitted to receive anything like warlike armaments England will be departing from neutrality, and will embroil herself with the Federal Government Any and beyond what is barely necessary to render the Nashville seaworthy, may well arouse the jealousy of the American Government

American war risks had been done at 50 a 60 shillings

It is asserted that Mason and Slidell did not leave in the Nashville, but some weeks earlier in the steamer Theodora They were expected to reach England in the West India steamer, La Plata, due on the 29th It is asserted that a Federal steamer, probably the James Adger, was cruising at the mouth of the English Channel, to intercept them

It is asserted that the destruction of the Harvey Birch took place in 75 fathoms of water

Lord Stanly, in a speech to his constituents, argued that the Federal Government could not act otherwise than it has done; and it was not surprising that Americans took offence at the way Englishmen settled their quarrels for them He thought two governments inevitable sooner or later

Mr Layard, in a speech defended the policy of the British Government, and regretted that it was misunderstood in America He denied that there was any evidence of the breaking down of democratic institution

Continental news unimportant.

Additional facilities had been granted by the French for the naturalization of British subjects.

It is believed that no disarmament will take place in France.

The London Times states that the steamer Pacific, formerly of the Galway Company, has just been sold and is now fitting out for a voyage to the West Indies, but it is generally believed that she has been bought for the rebels

Capt. Pegram, of the Nashville, denied the statement that he holds no commission, and has published his so-called commission as Lieutenant in the rebel army, issued by Jeff Davis.

Liverpool, 24th.—Steamship Arago from New York arrived at Southampton on the 23d, London 24th

The Observer, a ministerial organ, in allusion to the permission demanded by the steamer Nashville to arm and coal at Southampton, says "It becomes necessary to issue a proclamation by the Government, respecting vessels seeking an asylum in our ports A stay unnecessarily protracted, or for purpose of aggression, cannot be encouraged" The Observer also hints that in case of any violation of the laws of strict neutrality by the Nashville, which in British ports, our courts might be moved to action, on the representations of the American Minister, as was the case with regard to the seizure of the Sicilian ships by the government of Naples in 1856, and more recently in respect to the issue of Kossuth notes

THE OLD "VERMONT" TO BE PUT IN SERVICE The Boston Advertiser says "Orders have been received at the Navy Yard, to fit the ship of the line Vermont for sea at once It is the impression at the yard that she is intended for a floating Custom House, but we presume that he is intended for the accommodation of the Naval School at Newport the frigate Constitution being inadequate for the purpose

SOUTHERN APPREHENSIONS The Norfolk Day Book of the 30th ult, furnishes the following item

Threatened Attack on Columbus Memphis, Nov 21—Gen P Bow has information from a reliable source that the enemy will attack Columbus in twenty days with a force of 75,000 to 100 000 men A large amount of ammunition and cannon from St Louis has been sent to Cairo The enemy has thirty eight mortar boats and eight gunboats The enemy's plan is to surround Columbus and starve them into submission Gen Polk says we should make every effort to meet the enemy with a strong force right away There is no time to be lost

Movements at Manassas Richmond, Nov 27th Reason exists to anticipate an early engagement at Manassas. Perhaps a battle may occur simultaneously there and at Centreville—There is a large force of federals opposite Evansport, with a number of bridges prepared for the conveyance of troops across Occoquan creek, evidencing a land and naval attack at Evansport

It is reported that a large force of federals are advancing slowly, and that the right wing of their army has reached Fairfax and advanced within six miles of Centreville They fortify and entrench at every half mile The war flag is waving everywhere

The number and condition of the troops in Kentucky, and the military prospect, is thus set forth in the Louisville correspondence of the New York Times

"We must now have 60 000 to 70,000 North ern troops and 25 000 to 30 000 Kentucky troops—all I presume, well enough armed and equipped, officered and drilled, to meet and vanquish the rebels

I believe the 100,000 Union soldiers in Kentucky are trained and managed well enough to circumvent, overmatch, entrap or put to flight the reported 64,000 invaders We are in much better fighting condition than the enemy—Though ready to march, winter is upon us, and the roads in Southern Kentucky are, and will be for four or five months, almost impassable by artillery and camp wagons

THE PRESIDENT'S POSITION The Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post says

"The Democrats generally profess to be much pleased with the message, and will support it in and out of Congress Of course, such men as Vallandigham and Ben Wood who are opposed to the war, will not favor anything coming from a Republican President The passage in the message which refers to the slavery question will not produce any division in Republican ranks, as the President evidently refers the whole matter to Congress for its careful consideration In private conversation the President expresses himself as undecided upon the question He says: 'This is a great question, and one that I do not feel competent to settle. Let Congress consider it, not passionately—not with reference to the former political issues—but seriously and earnestly, and then give me its advice either in the form of a message or in a bill.' This is precisely what Congress will do, but the question will not so easily settled."

Speaking of the annual Bank examination recently made by Messrs Robbins and F K Swan, he Portland Advertiser says it was the most thorough that has ever been made in the State. Both Commissioners having been Cashiers in Banks, were perfectly familiar with Banking accounts, and gave every Bank a most scrutinizing and rigid examination Every note and security was examined, even the accounts of Bank notes printed, issued, and destroyed, were thoroughly examined and verified, a branch of the examination which has been too much neglected heretofore

ASTRONOMICAL DISCOVERY An important astronomical discovery is elucidated in the American Journal of Science and Art for November It seems to be established that there is at least one ring of meteoric formations surrounding the sun, which has a regular revolution and that the annual meteoric display in August of each year is occasioned by the earth passing through this ring The contact of its formation with our atmosphere rendering the combustions of the meteors visible According to Prof Newton, the inclination of the ring to the ecliptic has been measured and so far fixed as to render it certain that the meteors of other known annual recurrence cannot belong to the same ring Whether other rings exist or not remains to be shown, but this for the present may be regarded as ascertained, that a meteoric ring with an inclination of from 34 to 96 deg to the ecliptic, and with a periodic time of 281 days actually forms an important part of the solar system, that the world passes through this ring annually in August, and is several days in passing from side to side so that its thickness is from five to ten million of miles Prof Newton makes a rough calculation that there are more than 300 000 000 000 000 meteoric bodies in the ring

GREAT BRITAIN The Freeman's Journal says "The Most Rev Dr Hughes Archbishop of New York, was among the passengers on board the Africa which arrived at Queenstown on Monday His Grace will stay a short time in the country in order to obtain a sufficient number of Catholic clergymen to afford a chaplain to each of the Union regiments requiring one He will then proceed to Rome to obtain the necessary power to grant faculties to such chaplains so that they can officiate in whatever Union regiments to which they may be attached may happen to be"

A station master at one of the principal depots of the Great Western Railway in England was noticed for self importance, and also for his cringing obsequiousness to persons of rank—One day he observed a gentleman walking up and down the platform with a cigar in his mouth This was against the rules and the station master requested him to stop smoking The gentleman took no notice of it and continued puffing This irritated the station master and in a most peremptory tone he ordered the cigar to be thrown away Still no notice was taken A third time he gave the order still more angrily and in one not being obeyed he stepped up to the offender, and snatching the cigar from his mouth threw it away The gentleman coolly continued his walk without speaking or noticing the angry man Presently a coach and four bolting down the neighboring hill in front of the station house and the gentleman entering the carriage rode away The station master in great trepidation inquired his name, and was in the utmost consternation when told it was Viscount Palmerston Premier (First Lord of the Treasury) of England He immediately called a carriage, and drove off post haste to the house where the Premier was stopping and requested to see his Lordship The Premier soon appeared, and the station master commenced a most abject apology for having "so grossly insulted his Lordship Had he known who his Lordship was, he would not have treated him so! Free speech was the Premier heard him in silence looking upon him sternly and said "Sir, I did no more than my duty like a Briton but I see you were doing your duty like a Briton but I see you are nothing but an unmitigated ass

LIBERAL BEQUEST—By the late Jacob Hayes of Charleston by his last will bequeathed $20 000 to the Mental Charity School known as the Bangor Theological Seminary, for the purpose of establishing a professorship, to be known as the Hayes Professorship Of this legacy, $10 000 is to be paid at the death of his wife—the other $10,000 will be paid at such time after five years as his wife may choose, she paying interest upon it if she retains it beyond the time, provided that if the whole estate is less than $35 000, the wife receives the income of the whole while she lives.—Boston Traveller

OLD PAMPHLETS Not long since the library of Harvard College saw a man stuffing some bags with old pamphlets and papers in a Boston auction room, when, to his surprise and delight, he espied among them a pamphlet for which he had been looking for even years in order to complete the volume of a periodical the purchaser relinquished it willingly and the literary man says that he has known a journey to be made from New York to Cambridge in a storm, just to consult an old funeral sermon the only copy in the country It was wanted in a law case in which half a million dollars was involved

Doesticks in Washington

Washington city lies in an angle of the Potomac, and Potomac's eastern branch, exactly like a spider web in the corner of a rail fence The whole plan of the town is exactly that of a spider web, the Capitol building is the fat old spider in the middle, and all the other houses are huge flies that have got into the web and can't get out The whole country round is dotted with little white tents, as thick as if there had been a snow storm that hadn't melted away yet, or as if some one of the huge old heathen gods, in one fit of an ocean of beer at a tremendous go up, had strewn the fresh air over the surrounding country

Nobody, in ordinary times, lives at Washington, folks only stay here and talk, when Congress goes away, everybody goes with it just as if everybody thought he was a Congress The public buildings are taken down and put away, and the people pay the storage. When Congress is gone, there isn't any city here, nothing but a patch of ground covered with empty champagne and beer bottles, and with pieces of paper which are bills that didn't pay, and with red tape—as if the whole place had been sealed down with these interesting articles, in the hope that they would grow up in a splendid crop

Washington just now, however, is full of military men—soldiers, and such gaudy animals As to the officers, I suppose there must be at least thirty officers to every soldier In fact, I think there are a million officers at Willard's Hotel every day, and I understand there are as many as a hundred soldiers don't come to Willard's at much. I suppose they don't know Willard.

You can't migrate a rod without running over a few colonels, or knocking down a major or so This morning I stepped on the toe of a lieutenant, and as I turned to apologize, I hammed one of my elbows into the stomach of a general, and the other into the eye of a captain, who tumbled over a little knot of lieutenant colonels, who fell in a blue and gold heap, dragging down with them some ensigns and a major general of a division. Saw I had done mischief, turned to run, when I tangled my feet in the swords of a couple of other generals, which pitched me head first into the ribs of another general, who also fell down, tripping up in his fall two or three other generals. I expected to have a guard of generals sent after me, with a [illegible] of [illegible] on, to put me in the guard house, but, quite the contrary, they thought from the way I knocked people about that I was commander-in-chief, so some of the generals picked me up, and they all touched their hats

This touching of the hat is great institution—but everybody does it—I do it When I came here I saw everybody else, so I began the military I touched my hat to everybody; my arm got so lame that I began to fear amputation—Then I conceived the military salute with my foot, thought it would be very effective, especially if a man were a patent leather boot and a gilty spur, practiced it two days in my room, and then practiced it in the street to a general, he though I meant to insult him, and he threatened guard house when he mentioned guard house I went away I don't like to say I ran—but I went away, and the time was great

Then I studied into the philosophy of the military pump handle salute business concluded that I wouldn't pump handle to anybody under a general I had hitherto been especially careful to pumphandle to the gentlemen with stripes on their arms I thought they were major generals Now I know the whole mystery of it and I tell

There are three sizes of generals, brigadier generals, with one star on the shoulder, major generals, with two stars on the shoulder and generals of division, with three stars on them I now pumphandle to single barrel generals, and double barrelled generals, and to high pressure generals with three stars, but no fellow that has but least one star on his shoulder strap ever gets my more pumphandle out of me

I had heard so much talk about the rebels attacking Washington that I got nervous about it, and for a few days I slept to arms (put on my boots and got ready to travel) about twenty one times a day For instance, early one morning I heard a tremendous cannonading—I went to arms a big scare—cannonading proved to be a runaway in my wagon lumbering along on the road with—went to see Willard and got my scare off Heard a tremendous clatter of musketry—flew to arms—care as before—it was only proved to be chambermaids smashing crockery accidentally, saw Willard and whipped scare as before Heard tremendous charge of cavalry—flew to arms—scare as before—it was only cavalry was a small negro on a small mule saw Willard off And so for several days I was continually flewing to arms

Willard is very polite—Willard is a man—in fact three or four men Willard keeps his three or four shoves behind the counter, and Willard keeps all the whole bottles behind him—Willard has a great deal of business with the bottles and the shoves a great deal of business with Willard but for the more other animals there is no end and still anything but business with Willard People have an idea that it is an office business but it is not it—offices are for night—the night-office is pretty and busy business with Willard

Boy's know Santa Claus but not Willard great many believe in Willard When Santa Claus gets hold of a boy he runs down a patent leather boot and a gilty spur, practiced at

MADE ON

PLUMER'S PATENT ANATOMICAL LASTS!

(From J. V. C. Smith, M. D., formerly Mayor of Boston.)

PLUMER'S PATENT BOOTS.

The Undersigned has worn a pair of these Improved Boots, and feels justified in the Inventor for the excellent desired from them. The new adhesive of the sole to every part of the under surface of the foot, is an important circumstance which seems to have been entirely overlooked till Dr. Plumer planned his Last and Boot upon truly scientific principles.

There who have once had an opportunity to test the real advantages of these Philosophically made Boots, will hardly be reconciled to wear any other.

J. V. C. SMITH.

Boston, July 26, 1861.

J. C. Plumer, M. D.

Dear Sir: I am greatly delighted with your newly invented boots which I have worn during the past winter, and may wonder that they should have been so simple as not to have made the discovery half a century ago. Any one with a spark of common sense and a moment's reflection, might do so, but then your "PATENT BOOTS AND SHOES" are perfectly adapted to the foot, that wonderful piece of Nature's Mechanism, giving to every portion of it a full and equal support, and I am sure that those who once make a trial of your new invention will never go back to the old fashioned boots or shoes, which are a gross [illegible] Nature's [illegible] part and parcel of our Physical structure, supporting the soul, firmly, [illegible] promoting human comfort to an eminent degree, especially in walking over rough ground.

I wish I knew of more, and by which I could make known to every man, woman and child in the country, the great advantage of your invention.

Very truly yours,
